Thank you for taking time to join Isaacson, Miller in a conversation around the Presidential search. We are eager for your input and feedback around the opportunities and challenges this person will face as MSU's next president. We hope the following questions will help to guide our conversation:

1. How is MSU positioned today?
2. As you look forward, what are the most important things about MSU that you want the next president to preserve?
3. What are the seemingly intractable problems that MSU must begin to make progress on?
4. What must the next president do to be genuinely successful at MSU?
