Foreword

The foreword is not a part of the document that follows. It supplies, however, a necessary perspective for interpreting this document, originally named Academic Freedom for Students at Michigan State University. Student rights and responsibilities at Michigan State University must be understood against the social and historical background of the University itself.

When, more than 150 years ago, the people of Michigan established this institution on the land-grant principle, they framed a new conception of the role of the university in American life. A land-grant university is a trusteeship of intellect in the service of society. It gathers society’s creative and critical powers and uses them to advance the common good and to solve fundamental problems.

That is the special character that has caused the land-grant university to become one of the great transforming agencies of the American scene. When it honors its commission, it acts not for the sake of the academic community, but for the sake of society beyond the academy. All members of the academic community—trustees, administrators, faculty, staff and students—enact a trust of which society beyond the University is the proper beneficiary.

The real significance of this document, as we believe, is not that students have acquired rights, but that they have explicitly been made party to our social trust. The responsibility which lies upon the trustees, the administration, and the faculty continues. They remain guardians of the University, charged with preserving in it the genius of scholarship and the conditions of inquiry which society has entrusted to their care.

Article 1: Student Rights, Guiding Values and Responsibilities, Principles
Michigan State University is a community of scholars whose members include its faculty, staff, students, and administrators. The basic purposes of the University are the advancement, dissemination, and application of knowledge. The most basic condition for the achievement of these purposes is freedom of expression and communication. Without this freedom, effective sifting and testing of ideas cease, and research, teaching, and learning are stifled. Knowledge is as broad and diverse as life itself, and the need for freedom is equally broad. Yet absolute freedom in all aspects of life means anarchy, just as absolute order means tyranny. Both anarchy and tyranny are antithetical to the purposes and character of the University. Therefore, the University always must strive to strike that balance between maximum freedom and necessary order which best promotes its basic purposes by providing the environment most conducive to the many faceted activities of instruction, research, and service.

Each right of an individual places a reciprocal duty upon others: the duty to permit the individual to exercise the right. The student, as a member of the academic community, has both rights and duties. Within that community, the student’s most essential right is the right to learn. The University has a duty to provide for the student those privileges, opportunities, and protections which best promote the learning process in all its aspects. The student also has duties to other members of the academic community, the most important of which is to refrain from interference with those rights of others which are equally essential to the purposes and processes of the University.

The University cherishes many values, modes of thought, and standards of behavior that are better taught by example and rewards than by the threat of penalties. Regulations governing the activities and conduct of student groups and individual students should not be comprehensive codes of desirable conduct; rather, they should be limited to the prescription of procedures for meeting the practical, routine necessities of a complex community and to the prohibition or limitation of acts which cannot be tolerated because they seriously interfere with the basic purposes, necessities, and processes of the academic community, or with rights essential to other members of the community.

The student is not only a member of the academic community, but a citizen of the larger society, who retains those rights, protections, and guarantees of fair treatment held by all citizens, and which the University may not deny. The enforcement of the student’s duties to the larger society is, however, the responsibility of the legal and judicial authorities duly established for that purpose.

Guidelines

To protect student rights and to facilitate the definition of student responsibilities at Michigan State University, the following guidelines shall apply to those stipulations and conditions by which student conduct is regulated, broadly referred to as “regulations” in the remainder of this Article.
A. All regulations shall seek the best possible reconciliation of the principles of maximum freedom and necessary order.

B. There shall be no regulation unless there is a demonstrable need which is reasonably related to the basic purposes and necessities of the University as stipulated herein.

C. To the maximum extent feasible, students shall participate in formulating and revising regulations governing student conduct.

D. All regulations governing student conduct shall be made public in an appropriate manner.

E. Every regulation shall be as brief, clear, and specific as possible.

F. Wherever rights conflict, regulations shall, to the maximum extent feasible, permit reasonable scope for each conflicting right by defining the circumstances of time, place, and means appropriate to its exercise.

G. Regulations shall respect the free expression of ideas and shall encourage the competition of ideas from diverse perspectives.

H. Procedures and penalties for the violation of regulations shall be primarily designed for guidance or correction of behavior.

I. Penalties shall be commensurate with the seriousness of the offense. Repeated violations may justify increasingly severe penalties.

J. There shall be clearly defined channels and procedures for the appeal and review of:

1. The finding of guilt in an alleged violation of a regulation.
2. The reasonableness, under the circumstances, of the penalty imposed for a specific violation.
3. The substance of a regulation or administrative decision which is alleged to be inconsistent with the guidelines in this document.
4. The fairness of the procedures followed in the adjudication.

K. Students accused of violating a regulation or University policy shall have the right to appear before a duly constituted hearing body as provided in this document. No student shall be suspended or dismissed from the University for disciplinary reasons, except through the procedures of this document or the applicable sections of the Graduate Student Rights and Responsibilities document or the Medical Student Rights and Responsibilities document, or the Law Student Rights and Responsibilities document.

L. Every regulation shall specify to whom it applies and whether responsibility for compliance lies with individuals, with groups, or with both.

M. Student Handbook and Resource Guide (see Spartan Life): A handbook of the University’s current regulations relating to student rights and responsibilities shall be made available to every member of the academic community (see Spartan Life: Student Handbook and Resource Guide).
Article 2: Academic Rights and Responsibilities

I. Preamble

The freedom and effectiveness of the educational process depend upon the provision of appropriate conditions and opportunities for learning in an environment that is supportive of diversity among ideas, cultures, and student characteristics. The responsibility to secure, respect, and protect such opportunities and conditions is shared by all members of the academic community. The primacy of the faculty’s role and its centrality in the educational process must be recognized and preserved. The primary intellectual purpose of the University——its intellectual content and integrity——is the responsibility of the faculty.

The establishment and maintenance of the proper relationship between instructor and student are fundamental to the University’s function, and require both instructor and student to recognize the rights and responsibilities which derive from it. The relationship between instructor and student as individuals should be founded on mutual respect and understanding together with shared dedication to the educational process.

II. Role of the Faculty in the Instructional Process

A. No provision for the rights of students can be valid which suspends the rights of the faculty. The student’s right to competent instruction must be reconciled with the rights of the faculty, consistent with the principle that the competency of a professional can be rightly judged only by professionals. It is, therefore, acknowledged and mandated that competence of instruction shall be judged by the faculty.

B. Faculty shall have authority and responsibility for academic policy and practices in areas such as degree eligibility and requirements, course content and grading, classroom procedure, and standards of professional behavior in accordance with the Bylaws for Academic Governance, the Code of Teaching Responsibility, and other documents on faculty rights and responsibilities.

C. No hearing board established under this document shall interfere with the evaluation of a student that represents a course instructor’s good faith judgment of the student’s performance. In the event that an evaluation is determined to be based on inappropriate or irrelevant factors, as discussed in Section III.B.1 below, the dean of the relevant college shall cause the student’s performance to be reassessed and a good faith evaluation to be made.

D. Colleges/department/schools. The University shall provide appropriate and clearly defined channels for the receipt and consideration of student complaints concerning instruction. In no instance shall the competence of instruction form the basis for an adversarial proceeding before any of the judicial bodies established in this document.

III. Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

A. The student is responsible for learning and demonstrating mastery the content and skills of a course of study, while participating actively in the course’s intellectual community, according to standards of performance established by the faculty and for adhering to standards of professional behavior established by the faculty.

B. The student has a right to academic evaluations that represent the course instructor’s good faith judgments of performance. Course grades shall represent the instructor’s professional and objective evaluation of the student’s academic performance. The student shall have the right to know all course requirements, including grading criteria, and course procedures at the beginning of the course. (See also the Code of Teaching Responsibility.)

1. To overcome the presumption of good faith, it must be demonstrated that an evaluation was based entirely or in part upon factors that are inappropriate or irrelevant both to academic performance and applicable professional standards (e.g., race, sex, personal animus).

2. The student shares with the faculty the responsibility for maintaining the integrity of scholarship, grades, and professional standards.

3. The student shall be free to take reasoned exception to information and views offered in the instructional context, and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, without fear of penalty or reprisal.

4. The student’s behavior in the classroom shall be conducive to the teaching and learning process for all concerned.

5. The student has a right to be governed by educationally justifiable academic regulations and professional standards. The administering unit shall inform students in writing of such regulations, including codes of professional behavior, at the time of the student’s entry into the academic program.

1 Professional standards must be approved by the academic units, the dean, and in the case of college statements, the Office of the Provost. The development of such standards within academic units shall include student participation. The Dean and the Office of the Provost shall consult with appropriate governance groups before approving professional standards.
6. The student has a right to accurate, timely, and clear information in writing \([3]\) at the time of entry into an academic program concerning (a) general academic requirements for establishing and maintaining an acceptable academic standing, (b) the student’s academic relationship with the University and the details of any special conditions that may apply, and (c) graduation requirements for the student’s academic program.

7. Students are responsible for informing themselves of University, college, department, and school requirements as stated in unit publications and in the University catalog. In planning to meet such requirements, students are responsible for consulting with their academic advisors.

8. The student has a right to protection against improper disclosure of his/her education records \([4]\) and personal information such as values, beliefs, organizational affiliations, and health. (See also Article 3.)

9. The student has a right to be protected from personal exploitation and to receive recognition for scholarly assistance to faculty.

10. The student and the faculty share the responsibility for maintaining professional relationships based on mutual trust and civility.

\([2]\) Professional standards are defined as the codes of expected professional conduct. Such codes (sometimes referred to as honor codes) must be approved by the academic units, the dean, and in the case of college statements, the Office of the Provost. The development of such standards within academic units shall include student participation. The dean and the Office of the Provost shall consult with appropriate governance groups before approving professional standards.

\([3]\) The terms “in writing” or “written” refer throughout the AFR to documents that exist in paper or electronic form.

\([4]\) See the MSU Access to Student Information Guidelines for information regarding confidentiality of student education records.

These policies and practices shall conform to current federal and state law. In addition, any changes to the policies shall be made known to the student body through the appropriate student governance bodies.
Article 4: Non-Academic Hearing Board Structures

Consistent with the fundamentals of fair play in any judicial process is an opportunity for those accused to be heard by their peers. What follows is the foundation and structure of a representative peer review structure, embedded within the hearing procedures outlined within this document. This Article describes the composition and jurisdiction of all non-academic hearing boards. Academic hearing boards are described in Article 6 of this document.

I. General Guidelines

A. Student Membership and Selection

A nomination committee composed of undergraduate and graduate members from each of the hearing boards outlined in this Article, as well as representatives from RHA, ASMSU, and COGS, will be responsible for recruiting and nominating a full complement of students to serve on each hearing board. At its discretion, the committee may include faculty members in the nomination process. The committee will be advised by a designee of the Vice President for Student Affairs and Services, who shall be a non-voting member. The committee will develop and follow written procedures to govern the nomination process. Once the nomination process is complete, the committee must submit the names of the candidates for appointment to the appropriate governing body (see Section I.B below). The names of candidates for appointment shall be submitted to the appropriate governing bodies no later than the sixth week of spring semester.

B. Student Appointment/Reappointment

COGS shall be responsible for the appointment of graduate students to the hearing boards described in this Article. RHA shall be responsible for the appointment of residence hall students to the hearing boards described in this Article. All student appointments shall be made by the tenth week of spring semester.

Each governing body shall make provisions for filling mid-semester vacancies on an interim basis prior to completion of the appointment process. If such vacancies have not been filled within two weeks, the Office of the Provost may appoint student members to fill vacancies in the event that mid-semester openings occur, students are unable to serve during the summer, or interim members are necessary to meet quorum requirements.

In the event that mid-semester openings occur, or should students be unable to serve during the summer, each governing body shall make provisions for filling vacancies, including provisions for filling vacancies on an interim basis prior to completion of the appointment process.

C. Faculty and Staff Membership and Appointments

Faculty members on the hearing boards described in this Article shall be nominated pursuant to the Bylaws for Academic Governance and appointed by the President of the University. Faculty members may serve no more than two consecutive full-term appointments. Staff members on the hearing boards described in this Article shall be nominated by the Executive Vice President for Administrative Services and appointed by the President of the University. Staff members may serve no more than two consecutive full-term appointments.

If necessary, the Office of the Provost may appoint members from the faculty and staff ranks to fill vacancies in the event that mid-semester openings occur, or should faculty members be unable to serve during the summer, such vacancies will be filled on an interim basis by the President.

D. Advisors

Each hearing board described in this Article shall have an advisor designated by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Services. The role of the advisor is to see that each hearing board follows the provisions outlined in this document. The advisor shall serve as an ex-officio and non-voting member of the hearing board.

E. Code of Operations

Each hearing board described in this Article shall establish a written code of operations that will be reviewed and approved by the University Committee on Student Affairs. Student-only hearing boards described in Section II of this Article will submit their code of operations to the University Committee on Student Affairs for approval. The codes of operation must be consistent with this document, including confidentiality provisions, procedures for determining whether a complaint warrants a judicial hearing, and how a hearing is to be conducted.
The codes of operation shall, at a minimum, require that board members be trained, provide for the appointment of board members to specific board roles, and establish procedures for the assessment of conflicts of interest and removal of board members if necessary. The codes of operation shall also define the quorum for the hearing board, which in no case shall be less than three-fourths of the total number of hearing board members currently appointed membership, whichever is more. The codes of operation shall also address procedures for expedited consideration of urgent cases in which a temporary restraining action is sought and detail what, if any, special hearing procedures will be followed in cases involving sensitive issues, such as sexual assault and relationship violence.

II. Student-Only Hearing Boards

A. University Housing Hearing Boards

The Owen Graduate Association, University Apartments Council of Residents (UACOR), and RHA may establish their own hearing boards with jurisdiction over cases involving:

pension or dismissal from the University.

(9) UACOR represents the residents of the University apartments.
Article 5: Adjudication of Non-Academic Cases

I. Personal Misconduct Cases

The following procedures shall govern cases involving alleged acts of personal misconduct. The procedures contained in this Article apply to all students at Michigan State University. These procedures do not govern cases involving academic misconduct, which are governed by Article 7. The Vice President of Student Affairs and Services (the “Vice President”) and the Provost will determine whether a case involving allegations of both personal misconduct and academic misconduct will be heard pursuant to Article 5 or Article 7 (or both).

A. Complaints

A complaint is defined as a formal allegation that a student has violated a University regulation, ordinance, or policy. Any member of the University community may file a complaint against a student. Where appropriate, the involved parties are encouraged to consider a variety of dispute resolution options, including but not limited to restorative justice, mediation and/or conflict coaching, prior to filing a formal complaint.

B. Filing a Complaint

To file a complaint, a complainant member of the faculty, staff or student body must submit a written, signed statement to the Department of Student Life through its established procedures.
The statement must contain the following information:

1. The specific policy, ordinance, or regulation that has allegedly been violated;
2. The time, place, and specific description of the alleged violation;
3. The name of the student against whom the complaint is filed (the “respondent”); and
4. The name of the individual who is filing the complaint (the “complainant”).

C. Notice of Complaint

Upon receipt of a properly formatted complaint, a designee of the Vice President shall notify the respondent in writing within five class days that he or she has been accused of violating a University regulation, ordinance, or policy. The respondent shall be required to meet with an individual designated by the Department of Student Life (“administrator”) to discuss for the complaint purposes described in section D below. The notice of complaint to the respondent shall include the following:

1. The specific policy, ordinance, or regulation that has allegedly been violated;
2. The time, place, and specific description of the alleged violation;
3. The name of the individual who is filing the complaint;
4. Notice of the opportunity to review the complaint in person;
5. A list of conflict resolution options and campus resources available to both parties; and
6. The deadline by which the respondent is required to meet with the administrator.

D. Administrative Meeting

1. The respondent will meet with the administrator, who will advise the respondent of his/her rights and responsibilities under this document, and review the complaint and discuss possible resolution options. At that time, the respondent will be provided with a copy of the complaint and may admit or deny the alleged violation.
2. If the respondent fails to meet with the administrator or fails to admit or deny the alleged violation within five class days of meeting with the administrator, the administrator may take one of the following actions:
   a. Place a hold on the respondent’s registration until the respondent meets with the administrator.
   b. Refer the case to the appropriate hearing board for a formal hearing.
   c. Render a decision on the complaint, provided that the decision does not impose the sanctions of suspension or dismissal. If the decision includes a suspension or dismissal, the respondent may appeal per the provisions of Article 5.1.F.
the respondent shall have five class days from the date of the administrator’s decision to request a formal hearing before the appropriate hearing board. Such a Student-Faculty-Staff Hearing Board. A request for a hearing must be made consistent with the directions in the decision letter, and filed with the administrator. Such a request will void the administrator’s decision, which will not be shared with the hearing board that hears the complaint. In the absence of such a properly submitted appeal or hearing request, the administrator’s original decision on the complaint will be final, pending any necessary approval and implementation by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Services.

3. A respondent who admits his/her violation waives his or her right to a hearing on the matter of responsibility. In such a situation, the respondent may request that the administrator determine the sanction for the violation or request that the appropriate hearing board determine the sanction. Where appropriate, the respondent may also express a desire to participate in another dispute resolution process, either in lieu of or in addition to the adjudication process outlined in this Article.

4. If the respondent denies the violation alleged in the complaint, the respondent shall choose to have the complaint referred to the appropriate matter heard by an administrator or a hearing board. The hearing should follow in a timely manner.

E. Hearing Procedures

1. At least five class days prior to a hearing, both the complainant and respondent shall receive written notification of the hearing from the appropriate hearing board. This notice of hearing shall include:

   a. A sufficiently detailed description of the notice of complaint and alleged misconduct;
   b. The date, time, and location of the hearing;
   c. The names of the members conducting the hearing;
   d. The names of the complainant’s witnesses and advisor (if known).

2. The chair of the hearing board shall take necessary precautions to avoid any conflict of interest on the part of the hearing board’s members. The complainant and the respondent shall have two class days from receiving the hearing notice to challenge any hearing board members for cause. [17] The member or administrator for cause. The standard the chair of the hearing body shall follow in ruling on challenges for cause is whether, in light of the challenged person’s knowledge of the case or personal or professional relationships with the complainant, respondent, or a witness, the challenged person would be able to hear the case fairly and impartially. If the challenge is to the chair of the hearing body, the challenge shall be decided by the Vice President.

3 In general, the appropriateness of alternative dispute resolution options is up to the discretion of the Vice President and must be accompanied by an agreement to participate from the complainant.

3. The complainant and respondent shall have two class days from receiving the hearing notice to provide the chair of the hearing body with the names of his/her witnesses or advisors, if such names are not already listed on the hearing notice. The complainant and respondent will receive a second notice containing this information no less than one class day prior to the hearing.

4. Either party may request, for good cause, that the hearing be postponed. The chair of the hearing body may grant or deny such a request.

5. The hearing under 5.1 (personal misconduct) of this article shall be closed unless the respondent requests an open hearing. If the complainant is a student or the complaint was filed on behalf of a student, both the respondent and complainant must agree to an open hearing. The hearing under 5.11 (non-academic student grievances) of this article shall be closed, unless the complainant requests an open hearing. In either circumstance, the hearing body may close an open hearing at any time to maintain order or protect the confidentiality of information.

6. The complainant and respondent shall be expected to appear at the hearing to present their cases. If appearance in person is not feasible, the hearing body may permit either party to present his/her case through other communication channels (phone, webcam, video conference, etc.). If the complainant fails to appear, the hearing body may either postpone the hearing or dismiss the case. If the respondent fails to appear, the hearing body may either postpone the hearing or hear the case in the respondent’s absence. The respondent’s failure to appear shall not mean the respondent is presumed to have committed the violation in the complaint.

7. The complainant and respondent shall be entitled to:
   a. Receive a timely hearing.
   b. Call witnesses on their behalf. Witnesses must be members of the University community, unless the hearing body determines that they have direct knowledge of the alleged behavior in question. Witnesses may be present in the hearing only when testifying. Witnesses may submit written statements to the hearing body in lieu of attending only with the expressed permission of the chair of the hearing board. Expert or character witnesses are generally not allowed, except as deemed necessary by the hearing board. The hearing board may limit the number of witnesses.

c. Submit information in support of their positions.

d. Be accompanied to the hearing by an advisor, who must be a member of the faculty, staff, or student body of the University. If criminal charges related to the alleged violation are pending, the respondent may have an attorney who is not a member of the faculty, staff, or student body at the hearing as his/her advisor if criminal charges related to the alleged violation are pending. If the respondent is criminally charged with a sex offense related to the alleged violation when the hearing occurs, the complainant may also have an attorney present at the hearing as his/her advisor. The advisor or attorney may be present throughout the hearing but has no voice in the hearing unless the chair of the hearing board grants the attorney/advisor permission to participate.

8. The hearing board shall determine whether each allegation has been supported by a preponderance of the evidence. If an allegation is not supported by a preponderance of the evidence, the respondent shall be found “not responsible” for that allegation. If the allegation is supported by a preponderance of the evidence, the hearing board may impose one or more of the sanctions listed in Section H of this Article.

9. The hearing board shall prepare and deliver a written report within five class days of the hearing. The report shall include rationale for the hearing board’s decision and notification of the right to appeal. A copy of the report shall be provided to the complainant and respondent, who will be required to maintain the confidentiality of the document.

F. Appeals

1. The University Student Appeals Board has jurisdiction over all appeals of decisions made by an administrator or hearing board under this Article.

2. A respondent may appeal an adverse decision on the basis that the information presented at the hearing does not support the decision reached by the hearing board administrator or hearing board, or that the sanction imposed or recommended is incommensurate with the seriousness of the offense.

3. Either the complainant or respondent may appeal on the basis that applicable procedures were not followed or there was a conflict of interest with a member of the hearing board.

The chair shall normally grant permission for a student representative from the undergraduate student defender program to have voice in the hearing.
4. A written appeal must be filed with the chair of the University Student Appeals Board within five class days after the date on which the hearing board’s decision was sent to the parties. Any sanctions imposed will be held in abeyance while the appeal is pending.

5. The chair of the University Student Appeals Board shall take necessary precautions to avoid any conflict of interest on the part of the appellate board’s members. Upon receipt of the appeal, the chair shall provide the complainant and respondent with written notice of the names of the members of the University Student Appeals Board. Both the complainant and respondent shall have two class days from receiving such notice to challenge any member for cause.

6. The University Student Appeals Board shall review the case and the procedures used, request additional information if needed, and then do one of the following:
   a. Reject the appeal for lack of jurisdiction.
   b. Affirm or reverse the original decision.
   c. Direct the original hearing board to rehear the case or to reconsider or clarify its decision.
   d. Conduct a hearing of its own, from which the University Student Appeals Board may affirm, reverse or modify the original decision.

7. The University Student Appeals Board shall issue a written decision, including the rationale for its decision, within ten class days of convening to consider the appeal or conducting a hearing. A copy of the decision shall be provided to the complainant and respondent, who will be required to maintain the confidentiality of the document. Except in cases where a suspension or dismissal is recommended, the decision of the University Student Appeals Board is final and shall be effective immediately.

8. Either party may file a written request with the Vice President to review a decision by the University Student Appeals Board within five class days of the appellate board’s decision. A request filed by the respondent must allege that the information presented at the appellate hearing does not support the decision reached by the University Student Appeals Board or the information presented at the hearing does not support the sanction imposed. Either the complainant or the respondent may file a request alleging that the applicable procedures were not followed or there was a conflict of interest with a member of the hearing board. The Vice President’s decision is final.

G. For decisions that result in a suspension or dismissal, either may appeal on the basis that a finding of responsibility is not supported by the information presented, or that the penalty is incommensurate with the seriousness of the offense.

9. Decisions resulting in a suspension or dismissal will be forwarded to the Vice President for approval and implementation.
G. Requests for Reconsideration

Each hearing board shall make provision to allow a complainant or respondent to request reconsideration of a case within 30 calendar days of its decision on the basis, if either party can demonstrate, that new information has arisen. An exception to the 30-day time limit may be granted by the appropriate hearing board only upon a showing of good cause.

H. Sanctions for Personal Misconduct

Disciplinary sanctions imposed should be based on a consideration of all circumstances in a particular case, including a student’s prior record of misconduct, if any. Such sanctions may include any one or more of the following:

1. Warning: An official written statement expressing disapproval of the behavior and notifying the student it must not occur again.
2. Probation: An official written statement establishing a period of time for observing and evaluating a student’s conduct and indicating that any additional violations may result in more severe disciplinary action. This period may be accompanied by stipulations, including but not limited to restitution, participation in an educational program, or loss of specified University privileges.
3. Restitution: A requirement that a student pay for property damages or losses resulting from acts committed by the student, with the date by which the restitution must be completed.
4. Change of Residence: The student shall be required to move from his or her current on-campus residence, either to an off-campus location or to another location within the University housing system.
5. Other: The student may be required to participate in or complete an educational program deemed appropriate to or activity or comply with the reasonable conditions of a behavioral contract.
6. Disenrollment from a course: If the complaint is based on disruptive behavior in a specific case or set of behaviors or loss specified University privileges, the hearing board may recommend to the Provost that the student be disenrolled from that course.
7. Suspension: A suspension is temporary removal from the University for a particular period of time, at the conclusion of which the student is eligible to apply for readmission. A suspension may also be a conditional suspension, in which case the student must demonstrate that he/she has fulfilled stated conditions prior to applying for readmission. Only the Vice President for Student Affairs and Services may impose the sanction of suspension from the University.

7.8. Dismissal: A dismissal is a permanent removal from the University.

Dismissal and suspension sanctions may be imposed only by Only the Vice President for Student Affairs and Services or Provost; A decision by the Student Faculty Hearing Board or University Student Appeals Board that includes may impose the sanction of dismissal or suspension must be approved and implemented by the Vice President or Provost, as appropriate, from the University.

I. Urgent Disciplinary Cases

If the Vice President is presented with credible information that a student’s continued presence at Michigan State University poses a clear and present danger to the health or safety of persons or property, the Vice President or his/her designee may temporarily suspend a student from the University. Before temporarily suspending a student, the Vice President will make a reasonable attempt to notify the student of the potential interim suspension and offer the student an opportunity to present information that he/she does not pose a threat to persons or property.

The interim suspension shall not preclude, render irrelevant, or predetermine the outcome of subsequent disciplinary action relating to conduct on which the interim suspension is based. Nor shall an interim suspension create a presumption of guilt. Students placed on interim suspension may petition for reinstatement at any time, with the following guidelines.

1. Such petitions will be considered by either the Vice President or the Provost (or their designees) as requested by the petitioner.
2. Within five class days after receipt of a student’s petition, the Vice President or the Provost (or their designees) shall meet with the student for the sole purpose of deciding whether to continue the interim suspension or grant reinstatement.
3. The outcome of the meeting shall not preclude, render irrelevant, or predetermine the outcome of subsequent disciplinary action.

Students placed on interim suspension shall face disciplinary action for the underlying conduct pursuant to this Article, regardless of where the conduct occurred.

II. Non-Academic Student Grievances.

Any student (the “grievant”) may file a grievance against a registered student organization, student governing group, or University employee alleging a violation of this document or a violation of the student group’s constitution, bylaws, or policies. Any student may also file a grievance pursuant to this section to challenge a University policy or regulation as being inconsistent with the guidelines established in this document.[25] Such grievances should be filed in writing with the Vice President, per established protocol.

A. Informal Resolution

Prior to filing a student grievance, the grievant should first attempt to resolve the grievance informally. Informal resolutions may include involvement of a student organization advisor, another University employee, or alternative forms of dispute resolution (e.g., restorative justice, mediation).

B. Jurisdictional Findings

A designee of the Vice President shall review the grievance and forward it to the appropriate hearing board to determine whether it has jurisdiction to hear the case. The hearing board shall then forward a copy of the grievance to the respondent and invite a written response. After considering all submitted information, the hearing board may:

1. Schedule a hearing.
2. Reject the request for lack of jurisdiction[26] and provide a written explanation for that decision.
3. Invite all parties to meet with the hearing board for an informal discussion of the issues. Such a discussion shall not preclude a subsequent hearing.

C. Hearing Procedures

1. At least five class days prior to a hearing, the parties shall receive written notification of the hearing from the appropriate hearing board. This notice of hearing shall include:
   a. The date, time, and location of the hearing;
   b. The names of the hearing board members; and
   c. The names of the parties’ witnesses and advisors (if known).

2. Both the respondent and grievant shall have two class days from receiving the hearing notice to challenge any hearing board members for cause.[27] The standard the chair of the hearing body shall follow in ruling on challenges for cause is whether, in light of the challenged person’s knowledge of the case or personal or professional relationships with the complainant, respondent, or a witness, the challenged person would be able to hear the case fairly and impartially. If the challenge is to the chair of the hearing body, the challenge shall be decided by the Vice President.

3. The parties shall have two class days from receiving the hearing notice to provide the chair of the hearing board with the names of their witnesses and advisors, if such names are not already listed on the hearing notice. Both parties will receive a second notice containing this information no less than one class day prior to the hearing.

4. Either party may request, for good cause, that the hearing be postponed. The chair of the hearing board may grant or deny such a request.

5. The hearing shall be open unless the hearing board determines that the hearing should be closed to protect the confidentiality of information. An open hearing is open to any member of the University community. The hearing board may close an open hearing at any time to maintain order or protect the confidentiality of information.

6. Both parties are expected to appear at the hearing to present their cases. If appearance in person is not feasible, the hearing board may permit either party to present its case through other communication channels (phone, webcam, video conference, etc.). If the grievant fails to appear, the hearing board may either postpone the hearing or dismiss the case. If the respondent fails to appear, the hearing board may either postpone the hearing or hear the case in the respondent’s absence. The respondent’s failure to appear shall not result in any presumption favoring the grievant.

7. Both parties shall be entitled to:

   a. Receive a timely hearing.
   b. Call witnesses on their behalf. Witnesses must be members of the University community, unless the hearing board determines that they have direct knowledge of the matter at issue. Witnesses may be present in the hearing only when testifying. Witnesses may submit written statements to the hearing board in lieu of attending only with the written permission of the chair of the hearing board. Expert witnesses are generally not allowed. The hearing board may limit the number of witnesses.
   c. Submit information in support of their positions.
   d. Be accompanied by an advisor, who must be a member of the faculty, staff, or student body of the University. The advisor may be present throughout the hearing but has no voice in the hearing unless the chair of the hearing board grants the advisor permission to participate in the hearing.

  注: The chair shall normally grant permission for a student representative from the undergraduate student defender program to have voice in the hearing.
8. The hearing board shall determine whether the allegation has been supported by a preponderance of the evidence. If the allegation is not supported by a preponderance of the evidence, the grievance shall be decided in favor of the respondent. If the allegation is supported by a preponderance of the evidence, the hearing board may impose one or more of the sanctions listed in Section D below.

9. The hearing board shall prepare a written report within five class days of the hearing. The report shall include the rationale for the hearing board’s decision and notification of the right to appeal. The hearing board will send a copy of its report to both parties, who will be required to maintain the confidentiality of the document.

D. Sanctions and Other Actions.

1. Warning: An official written statement expressing disapproval of the behavior and notifying the respondent it must not recur.

2. Warning Probation: An official written statement establishing a period of time for observing and evaluating a student group’s conduct and indicating that further violations may result in more severe consequences. This probation may be accompanied by conditions.

3. Revocation of privileges for a registered student organization or student governing group.

4. Revocation of registration of a student organization.

5. Other action deemed appropriate to the specific case. The student may be required to complete an educational program or activity or comply with the reasonable conditions of a behavioral contract.

6. A formal recommendation to the appropriate administrator to correct the action, policy, or regulation in question.

E. Appeals

Either party may appeal the decision of the hearing board on the basis that (1) the information presented does not support the decision reached by the hearing board, (2) the information presented does not support the sanction imposed or recommended by the hearing board, or (3) the procedures described above for adjudicating the case were not followed. A written appeal must be filed with the chair of the University Student Appeals Board within five class days after the hearing board’s report has been sent to the parties. Any sanctions imposed will be held in abeyance while the appeal is pending.

F. Temporary Restraining Actions.

1. The codes of operation for student judiciaries described in Article 4 of this document shall include provisions for expedited consideration of urgent cases in which a re-
A temporary restraining action is sought because (1) a group action allegedly threatens immediate and irreparable harm through action contrary to the constitution of any undergraduate or graduate student governing group within the judiciary’s jurisdiction; or (2) a regulation or administrative decision allegedly threatens immediate and irreparable harm through infringement of rights defined by this document.

2. Upon receipt of such a request, the relevant hearing board shall conduct a preliminary review to determine whether a temporary restraining action is appropriate. This review should include opportunity for both the grievant and the respondent to present information, either in writing or in person at the discretion of the hearing board. The purpose of the review is to consider the nature and potential extent of irreparable harm and other alternatives to remedy the situation. The review shall not preclude, render irrelevant, or predetermine the outcome of the ultimate decision of the hearing board on the grievance in question.

3. If the hearing board decides to take a temporary restraining action, the appropriate individual, group, or administrative unit shall be required to postpone or withdraw the action in question pending a hearing on the merits of the grievance by the appropriate hearing board.

4. The hearing board shall make every reasonable effort to meet whatever exigencies of time may exist in such a case. If necessary, the hearing board may announce its decision regarding a temporary action without a written statement of its reasons, provided that such a statement of its reasons shall be made available to the parties as soon as is reasonably possible.

If the challenge is to the chair of the hearing body, the challenge shall be decided by the Senior Associate Vice President for Student Affairs and Services.)

The University undertakes, within the limits of its resources and the limits imposed by due respect for the professional rights of the faculty, to supply an appropriate remedy for legitimate student grievances. The limits of the University’s resources proceed from factors that, while subject to its influence, are not always subject to its control.

C. A student who has been dismissed by a college for lack of academic progress may file a grievance under this section alleging procedural violations. Students may not file a grievance challenging such a decision to dismiss on substantive grounds.

D. Where an instructor or a committee has rendered a judgment regarding a student’s academic performance, that judgment is presumed to be made in good faith and the grievant bears the burden of proving the contrary, with the exception of allegations of academic dishonesty. In those cases, the instructor or other appropriate member of the University community bears the burden of proof.

If the problem remains unresolved, they should consult the unit administrator. If the problem remains unresolved, the student may file a request for a grievance hearing. A grievance hearing will not be scheduled until a good-faith effort to resolve the issue informally has been made.

B. To file a request for a grievance hearing, the student must submit a written, signed statement that contains the following information to the chair of the hearing board of the department/school and college within which the violation is alleged to have occurred. Upon receiving a complaint, the Associate Provost shall promptly notify the student in writing that he or she has been accused of academic misconduct and that the student’s dean has requested an academic disciplinary hearing. The student shall be required to meet with the Associate Provost to discuss the alleged academic misconduct and review the academic disciplinary hearing process. The Associate Provost also will inform the student of his or her right to contest the allegation before the University Academic Integrity Hearing Board, as part of the academic disciplinary hearing process.

C. The student shall have ten class days to request an academic grievance hearing to contest an allegation of academic misconduct, including a penalty grade, based on a charge of academic dishonesty. If the student files a request for a grievance hearing, the student will not meet with the Associate Provost until the University Academic Integrity Hearing Board has heard the student’s academic grievance and all appeals, if any, are final. If the University Academic Integrity Hearing Board determines that the student did not commit academic dishonesty, the student will not face any additional sanctions based on that charge.
D. In cases in which the student’s dean (or designee) has requested an academic disciplinary hearing for a complaint involving the violation of professional standards (academic misconduct), the Associate Provost/Dean will meet with the student to determine the appropriate college hearing board for the hearing and review the academic disciplinary process.

E. In cases in which the student’s dean (or designee) has requested an academic disciplinary hearing for a complaint involving academic misconduct other than violation of professional standards, the Associate Provost will meet with the student to discuss the allegations and ask the student to select either an administrative hearing conducted by the Undergraduate Studies or a disciplinary hearing conducted by the Associate Provost or by the appropriate college hearing board, University Academic Integrity Hearing Board. If the student chooses to have an administrative hearing, the Associate Provost/Dean will forward the complaint to the chair of the appropriate college hearing board, University Academic Integrity Hearing Board. If the student requests an administrative hearing, the Associate Provost/Dean will proceed with the hearing.

F. A student who admits his/her academic misconduct to the Associate Provost/Dean waives the right to a hearing to contest the allegation. In such a situation, the Associate Provost/Dean shall impose an appropriate redress or sanction for the academic misconduct. The student may appeal the appropriateness of the sanction/redress imposed to the University Academic Appeal Board.

G. If a student fails to meet with the Associate Provost/Dean when so required by this Article, the academic misconduct complaint will be referred to the appropriate college hearing board, University Academic Integrity Hearing Board. (See also Integrity of Scholarship and Grades Policy and General Student Regulation 1.00: Protection of Scholarship and Grades.)

H. In cases of ambiguous jurisdiction, the Associate Provost will select the appropriate college hearing board.

VI. Sanctions for Academic Misconduct

The academic disciplinary sanctions imposed on a student should be based on a consideration of all circumstances in a particular case, including the student’s prior record of academic misconduct, if any. Such sanctions may include one more of the following:

A. Warning: An official written statement expressing disapproval of the behavior and notifying the student that it must not recur.

B. Probation: An official written statement establishing a period of time for observing and evaluating a student’s conduct and indicating that further academic misconduct may result in more severe disciplinary action. This probation may be accompanied by stipulations, including, but not limited to, restitution, participation in an educational program, or the loss of specified privileges.

C. Restitution: A requirement that a student pay for property damages or losses resulting from acts committed by the student, with the date by which the restitution must be completed.

D. Other: The student may be required to participate in an educational program deemed appropriate to a specific case or set of behaviors or lose specified University privileges.

D. Disenrollment from a course: If the complaint is based on disruptive behavior in a specific class, the hearing body may recommend to the Provost that the student be disenrolled from that course.

E. Suspension Recess: A suspension recess is temporary removal from the University or a department, school, or college for a particular period of time, at the conclusion of which the student is eligible to apply for readmission. A suspension recess may also be a conditional suspension recess, in which case the student must demonstrate that he/she has fulfilled stated conditions prior to applying for readmission. Only the Dean of Undergraduate Studies may impose the sanctions of recess from the University. Only the dean of the relevant college may impose the sanction of recess from a school/college.

F. Dismissal: A dismissal is a permanent removal from the University or a department/school and college.

Only the University Academic Appeal Board and the Associate Provost/Dean of Undergraduate Studies may impose the sanctions of suspension or dismissal from the University. Only the dean of the relevant college and the University Academic Appeal Board may impose the sanction of suspension or dismissal from a school/college. Dismissal does not preclude application for readmission.

G. Other: The student may be required to complete an educational program or activity or comply with the reasonable conditions of a behavioral contract.¹¹

VII. Appeals to the University Academic Appeal Board.

A. Appeals must be filed with the Dean of Undergraduate Studies within five class days following the date of the hearing board’s decision and may challenge the substance of the decision and/or the procedures employed in the adjudication. Any redress or sanctions imposed will be held in abeyance while the appeal is pending.

B. Appeals must be written and signed by the party filing the appeal and must specify the basis for appeal in sufficient detail to justify further proceedings. Presentation of new evidence will normally be inappropriate at an appeal hearing, unless the information was previously unavailable to the party submitting it and the party acted with due diligence to obtain such evidence.

C. The chair of the University Academic Appeal Board, The Dean shall take necessary precautions to avoid any conflict of interest on the part of the appeal board’s members. The chair must promptly notify each party of the names of the appeal board members and provide either party with an opportunity to file a written challenge to any hearing board member for cause. If the chair is the subject of the challenge, the written challenge should be filed with the Associate Provost.

D. The Chair of the University Academic Appeal Board shall review the appeal and forward a copy of the appeal to the other party and invite a written response. After considering the appeal and response, the board may:

1. Decide that it does not have jurisdiction and let the decision of the initial hearing board stand;
2. Direct the initial hearing board to rehear the case or to reconsider or clarify its decision; or
3. Decide that sufficient reasons exist for an appeal and schedule an appellate hearing in a timely manner.

E. When the University Academic Appeal Board decides the case in favor of the grievant and that redress is possible, it shall recommend that redress be provided. The relevant academic dean, after reviewing the decision of the appeal board, shall implement an appropriate remedy.

F. The University Academic Appeal Board shall issue findings and recommendations in a written report that includes its supporting rationale within ten class days of the appeal hearing. The appeal board may affirm, reverse, or modify the decision of the hearing board. The appeal board also may direct the initial hearing board to rehear the original complaint/grievance. Copies of this report shall be provided to both parties and to the Dean of Undergraduate Studies and the relevant academic dean.

((32) Instructors and deans seeking sanctions for academic dishonesty other than, or in addition to, penalty grades must file a complaint under Section II.B of this Article.)

((33) Allegations of falsification of records submitted for admission to the University are processed through the Office of the Provost to determine whether the individual’s admission will be rescinded. A decision by the Associate Provost for Undergraduate Education or the Dean of the Graduate School (as appropriate) to rescind admission may be appealed to the Provost within ten calendar days of the decision. Allegations of falsification of records submitted by a current student for admission to a school, college, or program are handled through the academic disciplinary process as allegations of academic misconduct.)
The standard to be used in ruling on challenges is whether, in light of the challenged person’s knowledge of the case or personal or professional relationships with a party or witness, the challenged person would be able to fairly and impartially hear the case.

The hearing board must reject the complaint/grievance if the written complaint/grievance does not contain the information required in Section III.B above, if it has been filed with the wrong hearing board, or if the deadline for filing a grievance/complaint had already elapsed when it was filed.

“Good cause” includes, but is not limited to, circumstances outside of a party’s control, such as illness, death in the family, or a class conflict.

The chair shall normally grant permission for a student representative from the undergraduate student defender program to have voice in the hearing.

The appropriate unit administrator is generally the head of the unit in which the hearing occurred.

“Good cause” includes, but is not limited to, circumstances outside of a party’s control, such as illness, death in the family, or a class conflict.

The University Academic Appeal Board must reject the appeal for lack of jurisdiction if the written appeal does not articulate one of the permissible bases for appeal or if the appeal deadline had already elapsed when the appeal was filed.

Article 8: Regulations, Policies, and Rulings

The University community’s expectations for student and group conduct which hold the potential for disciplinary action shall be promulgated as General Student Regulations, Student Group Regulations, Living Group Regulations, and All-University Policies as defined herein. B. All-University Policies are established by the Board of Trustees, usually following University-wide discussion and endorsement or as the result of a recommendation by an administrative unit or committee. B. The process by which Administrative Rulings are developed shall be consistent with the legislative and advisory duties and prerogatives of the relevant academic governance bodies. The process shall reflect concern for student input when the substance of a ruling affects students.

1. The administrator shall determine whether the alleged noncompliance may violate a General Student Regulation, Student Group Regulation, or Living Group Regulation, or an All-University Policy. If so, the administrator may refer the student for disciplinary action under Article 5 of this document.

2. The administrator shall assess the situation and decide whether any interim or temporary non-disciplinary actions must be taken during the pendency of his/her investigation (if applicable) or to prevent similar acts from occurring.
